EDEN BATH

Bringing Earthly Elements Into The Home Is Our Passion

Passion fuels design innovation, and passion for nature's elements is why Eden Bath uses the most unique materials to create our exceptional line of vessel sinks. Whether you are looking for a relaxing home spa, a nature inspired getaway or just a warm and comforting bathroom, Eden Bath has the finishing elements to create a truly serene space.

Stone Sinks

An Eden Bath stone sink starts its life in the ground as a geological masterpiece. Hundreds of thousands of years have created a solid material comprised of sediment and natural elements. Once harvested from the Earth, each block of stone is meticulously shaped by expert craftsmen to our unique specifications.

Our line of stone sinks is made up of various natural stone materials including granite, marble, travertine, limestone and onyx. Only the highest quality stone goes into an Eden Bath sink, so you can rest assured that your Eden Bath stone sink will stand the test of time.

Copper Sinks

Eden Bath copper sinks are created with 99% pure copper with a minimum 18 gauge thickness. A wide array of unique single walled and double walled designs are available that will fit into nearly any decor. Eden Bath copper sinks come in a vintage inspired antique dark copper finish.

Copper is often referred to as having a living finish. This is because it changes its appearance over time as the copper comes into contact with air and water. However, this can be avoided by treating a copper sink with a sealing wax or polish, although often times this natural patina is what gives a copper sink its unique appeal.

Glass Sinks

Glass vessel sinks are an affordable way to introduce unique design into your home. Our glass sinks come in a range of popular colors and textures and are sure to brighten up any contemporary space. Our tempered glass sinks are low maintenance and ideal for nearly any bathroom design.

Vessel Sink Accessories

Most Vessel Sinks require drains (with no overflow component) and a mounting ring is recommended for use with most Glass Vessel Sinks. Eden Bath's accessories include a complete line of drains and mounting rings in popular finishes for use with vessel sinks.

Vessel Sink Faucets

In addition to our exquisite natural vessel sinks we also offer a complete line of vessel sink faucets. The Contemporary and Cascada collections contain some of the most unique bathroom faucet designs available and are a perfect compliment to our line of vessel sinks. Our faucets can be found on our website at www.EdenBath.com.

Care of Stone Sinks

Due to the porous nature of natural stone, certain substances can stain your stone sink. Polished surfaces are much less porous while unpolished or honed surfaces are more porous, making them susceptible to staining and moisture absorption. We recommend that you wipe up spills of any liquid that contains chemicals or heavy color dies immediately and do not allow surface deposits of water bi-products such as calcium, salt, lime or detergents to build up on your stone sink. Eden Bath stone sinks should be cleaned regularly by using a soft cloth or a sponge with a solution of a non-abrasive light neutral detergent (pH 7) as well as warm water. Regular dish soap and warm water will also suffice or a professional stone cleaner solution, which can be purchased from a local hardware store. Make sure that you thoroughly rinse and dry the stone sink after cleaning.

Do not use any acidic tub and tile cleaners, toilet bowl cleaners, ammonia, abrasive or soft paste cleaners, vinegar, alcohol, window cleaners or lemon juice. In addition do not use abrasive cleaning pads such as steel wool, metal brushes or scouring powders. Using any harsh chemicals or abrasives will almost always damage the sink. Remember, the best way to avoid possible staining is to rinse away any harmful liquids or deposits on the sink, such as tooth paste, wine or other types of alcohol.

To ensure your stone sink remains sealed, we recommend that you use a stone sealer every 3-4 months, just like you would on a granite kitchen countertop. Stone sealer products can be purchased from your local home improvement store, specialty tile store or stone countertop provider.

Care of Copper Sinks

Cleaning of copper sinks should only be done with soap and water. Do not use copper polish, any abrasives or chemicals as these will change the sink's finish. Care should be taken not to leave anything on the sink surface after its use such as acidic fluids, cleaning products, toothpaste, food etc. If you experience hard water, we recommend wiping the sink down after each use with a gentle soft cloth to avoid spotting. Wipe off any acidic chemical that comes in contact with your sink immediately.

If you want the sink to develop its own unique patina, simply give it time to slowly age. However, if you would like to keep your copper sink looking like it did when you first installed it, we recommend waxing the sink every 2-3 months. A good coat of a high quality natural carnauba wax will create a protective coating between the copper and the "elements" like air and water to prevent it from changing color. Carnauba wax is a food grade wax which is often used to coat jelly beans and bubble gum. Carnauba wax is the main ingredient in many car waxes so it can usually be found in the car detailing and waxing section of most larger department and automotive stores. Remember to re-wax the copper sink at regular intervals to keep the sink looking like new. If you wax your copper sink regularly, you likely only need to rinse your sink with a soap and warm water solution to clean the sink.
